Returning to Our History at Angel Island

Join us on a daylong tour and memorial observance at the Immigration Station National Landmark at Angel Island on San Francisco Bay. The Immigration Station operated from 1910 to 1940. The surviving detention barracks hold many engravings, writings and drawings by the scores of immigrants who passed through the Golden Gate, the majority coming from China and Japan. Both a museum and active research site still revealing its secrets, the Immigration Station welcomes us to discover and remember our shared heritage in this special place.
Lunch included.
